Headline:

Turning unsettled and unseasonably cold on Monday, with snow showers.

This Evening and Tonight:

A fine and dry night with light winds and long clear periods. Rather cold with a touch of frost in rural areas. Some patchy low cloud will develop over the western hills as the wind starts to pick up later. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Sunday:

Bright or sunny on Sunday morning. However, it will turn increasingly breezy, with cloud moving in from the north during the afternoon and outbreaks of rain later. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Much colder, with snow and blustery showers spreading to all parts, these more frequent along coasts. Widespread frosts and temporary accumulations overnight. Largely dry, becoming less cold on Wednesday.
